Printable TRG Promotional Materials

2026 | English Resources

ABOUT THESE MATERIALS

Thank you for your interest in sharing the Transition Resource Guide (TRG)! These printable promotional materials are designed to help teachers, schools, organizations, and community partners introduce the TRG to students, families, and others who may benefit from its resources.

This package includes:

- 8.5" × 11" Poster: A printable poster to display in classrooms, guidance offices, resource centres, and other shared spaces.
- Two-Sided Tri-Fold Brochure: An overview of the TRG that can be shared with students, families, educators, and community members. Print both pages double-sided, then fold into thirds to create a tri-fold brochure.

We encourage you to print and share these materials within your school, organization, or community to help more students and families discover the tools and information available through the TRG. French versions of these promotional materials are also available on the TRG website.

Have another idea for a resource that would help you share the TRG?

We'd love to hear from you! If there are additional promotional materials or resources that would be useful in your setting, please reach out to our team though our Contact Form. We're always interested in hearing suggestions and exploring opportunities to develop additional materials to support awareness and engagement with the TRG.

About the TRG

The Transition Resource Guide (TRG) was created by the Regional Assessment and Resource Centre (RARC) to help students with disabilities in Ontario prepare for life after high school.

Whether you're exploring the options, learning about accessibility, or getting ready for the transition, the TRG brings together information and resources to help students plan for this next step with confidence.

The Transition Resource Guide supports students with disabilities in Ontario as they explore different pathways for life after high school.

Transition Resource Guide

www.transitionresourceguide.ca

Planning for life after high school starts with you.

The TRG is designed for:

Students
Explore your options, discover your strengths and learn how to prepare for life after high school.

Parents and caregivers
Find information and resources to help support your student's goals, independence and transition.

Teachers and educators
Access tools, checklists and resources to support transition planning with students and families.

Explore Pathways

There's no single path after high school. Explore the options and discover what might be right.

Apprenticeship & Trades
Combine hands-on learning with paid, on-the-job training while developing skills in a skilled trade.

Community
Explore opportunities to build independence, develop life skills, connect with others and participate in the community.

Post-Secondary Education
Continue learning at a college, university or Indigenous Institute and develop knowledge and skills for the future.

Workplace
Learn what it means to join the workplace, whether part-time, full-time or alongside other pathways.

Learn what you need to know

Explore information about:

- Accessibility & Accommodations: Understand student's rights and responsibilities, disability-related supports, accommodations and how to access services.
- Supports & Services: Learn about available resources, services and supports within different pathways
- Building Skills: Identify the skills needed to be successful in each pathway (eg. self-advocacy and time management) and make a plan to get there.
- Preparing for the Future: Discover ways to explore options, develop skills and get ready for the next steps.
